

Free Online Press Release Posting of Education, Entertainment and Food Trade News

2010-02-09 12:17:26

FORT LAUDERDALE, Feb. 9 — The Xpress Press News Service is offering free online posting of Education, Entertainment and Food Trade press releases through March 1, 2010.

There is no charge to register with XpressPress.com. All press releases must meet strict editorial guidelines before they are published on the company's website.

To post a press release, visit <http://www.xpresspress.com> and register as a client. An online interface will guide users through the submission process. For a limited time, online posting of press releases at XpressPress.com is free. More information about rates and services for distributing content to members of the media is available at XpressPress.com

All content is reviewed within 24 hours and clients will be notified if the press release is published. The Xpress Press News Service reserves the right to accept or reject press releases and submitted content for any reason.

Source: Xpress Press News Service